A large, shiny, metallic purple elephant-shaped balloon is the central focus of the image. The balloon is highly reflective, showing highlights and shadows that emphasize its three-dimensional form. It has a large, rounded head, a trunk that curves downwards, and two large, fan-like ears. The word "Volume" is written across the middle of the elephant's body in a bold, white, sans-serif font. The background is a solid, deep purple color, which matches the color of the balloon, creating a monochromatic and visually striking composition.

Every line, every word, seemed to mean more than its mere meaning. They were like containers, filled with the spirit of pressure that almost burst them. And yet, in this dangerous balance in which the writing existed, there was a strange beauty. It was the beauty of the tension, of the imminent discharge that could be measured by the manometer, but could never be fully explained.
