Curve

A modern Didone ⟶〆
by Arne Freytag

N° 05 ~ 2015

Avant Garde

Curve is a modern neoclassical font family with characteristics of the Didone genre, which was specially developed for contemporary typography. A large x-height not only creates space in the letters for extra-bold styles, but also gives Curve an open and generous character in the narrower and semi-bold versions. The carefully balanced proportions and clear lines make Curve versatile for both continuous text and eye-catching headlines. The fine details and elegant appearance emphasise its professional yet modern look. Curve offers a wide range of weights and styles, making it an ideal choice for a variety of design projects.

In the spheres of aesthetics, we encounter curves that appear like moulded thoughts. Every sweep, every curve tells of an inner balance that reminds us that there is profound beauty even in the inconspicuous. They lead us to a quiet reflection, a moment of pause in which we can appreciate the essence of design in its purest form. Perhaps it is this quiet poetry that teaches us to see the essence in the detail and the art in the everyday.
